

Inspiring Governance Training

About Governance

Project governance is a management framework that provides a logical, robust and repeatable management decision-making process, to ensure effective control of the organisation's projects, in alignment with corporate governance requirements. Projects are kept on track through effective project governance: setting up terms of reference and operating frameworks, defining boundaries, supporting the robust flow of information that is critical to success and ensuring that planning and execution are carried out in a way which ensures that projects deliver benefits. We base our approaches on AS/NZS 8016, PRINCE2, MSP and other accepted sources of guidance.
